Sir Robert Falconer,
President, University of Toronto,
Toronto, Canada.

My dear Sir Robert:-

I heard you were in England and was very anxious to meet you if I had known your ship. As a matter of fact, I could not have met the Adriatic because I was absent for the moment in Chicago.

Professor Frank Schofield, of the American Council on Education, The Harvard Club, New York, is handling the visit of the University Professors for the Council on National Education and has undertaken the details of the trip at the request of the Council on National Defence. From the first I emphasized the point that they must, of course, visit Canada as well as the United States, and found I had been anticipated by my friends of the Council on Education. I fancy that on returning home you will find a letter from them but I am telling Professor Schofield now of your desire. It will be a great pleasure if I can go up with them and renew our very pleasant acquaintance made on the day of your Pennsylvania address.

Yours sincerely,

Geoffrey Butler
